Implementation issues including impact on your systems

The addition of this information within the 'T flows' would involve some minor changes to E.ON systems which would require a minimum of 3 months notice of implementation.

Additional Information and Comments

E.ON is supportive of this Modification as it would align the information provided on Change of Supply by IPL and QPL with that of the other iGT UNC Operators. The provision of the MAM and GAO ID will also save Pipeline Operators from pursuing costly and time consuming processes to obtain this information via other means.

With the continuing roll out of Smart Metering it will become more and more important that the MAM and GAO ID is provided in a timely manner to ensure a continued and seamless service to our customers.
